by combination of the May-Apple or Morinda valuable extracts, have this effect, and are recomby many eminent physicians to be the most effect-substitute for mercurials yet discovered.

They produce no nausea or griping, and do not injure delicate persons, or even children; yet are sufficiently active and searching to purge out obstructions in vigorous and robust constitutions.
The highest chemical skill and improvements of the few years have been applied to the condensation and extraction of the medicinal virtues of the and herbs which compose them, by which they become easily dissolvable in the stomach, and penetrating and effectual in purging out disor-

The following are some of the complaints and symptoms which indicate their use: General detention of being out of order and system deranged.
You feel weak and half sick, perhaps have a cold, which has settled on some vital organ, and produces the bad feelings of which you complain.
These symptoms often presage a fit of sickness which should be warded off by some seasonable remedy. RUSH'S PILLS will purify the blood, purge out the disordered humors, and cause all the parts to move on again in unobstructed health. RUSH'S PILLS will prevent the cold you have taken from settling upon any important organ, and disturbing proper and usual functions; but if it has already taken place, not less make use of RUSH'S PILLS.
You will observe how soon one or more doses will restore the natural action of all the parts, and bring about the joyous feelings of health.

The same purgative effect is equally effective against deeper-seated and more dangerous disorders, and expels them with no less certainty. Many poor sufferers have been astonished to find return to health from the use of a remedy so pleasant.

See headings in large print for the use of RUSH'S PILLS in curing various disorders.

LIVER & BILIOUS COMPLAINTS, AND BILIOUS STOMACH, JAUNDICE, AND DISEASES OF THE LIVER.—These begin frequently from the stomach being out of order than from any other cause. All the blood in the body (three or four gallons) passes through the liver every few minutes to have the bile separated from it. If, therefore, the blood is out of order, the liver is immediately affected. Hence Scrofula, a humorous state of the blood, is a common cause of disease of the liver. From such causes it becomes torpid, and imperfectly performs its duty of filtering out the bile from the blood. The ducts which should convey the bile into the bowels become torpid from the same causes and clogged up with slime. Hence the liver becomes obstructed, inflamed, tender, and more or less swelled.

most common signs of Liver complaint are: a feeling of fullness or heaviness in the right side at or above the waist; tenderness, if pressed there; perhaps sharp pain in the same place; discomfort from pressure on the left side, feverishness all day. JAUNDICE perhaps shows this condition. The skin is yellow, tawny, or greasy-looking; the tongue has a yellowish, or a dark brown fur; the whites of the eyes become yellow, or even greenish; the urine has a deep yellow color from the bile passing off in it; this causes pain in the back, and inflames and irritates the passages as it passes away. There is much languor, a feeling of weariness, great depression of spirits, fear of impending danger, or the blues. In Jaundice the skin loses their natural color, and becomes whitish or clay-colored.

Less common signs of Liver complaint are: pain in the right side; difficulty of breathing; a cough; hiccough; nausea or vomiting; drowsiness in the daytime; wakefulness at night; frightful dreams; sharp pains in the chest or abdomen, stitching pains like those of rheumatism; bilious colic; bowels irregular, loose, or costive; beating at the stomach; sour stomach and bad taste in the mouth in the morning; thick stringy mucus in the throat; the head is oppressed and heavy; pain in the left shoulder; clothing at the waist feels tight. Few or many of these signs may be present.

A Liver Complaint is allowed to continue, the Liver may become dry and hardened, or full of a yellow fatty substance, or have an abscess or cancer; any of these would destroy life: hence the importance of seasonable remedies and early attention.

Medicines to cure these disorders must act not only on the Liver, but upon the stomach and blood, when all three are out of order at the same time. RUSH'S Pills are the most powerful Liver Pills ever invented, and will fail to give quick relief with any other medicine. For this purpose take three or four Pills at night, and two or three in the morning, if needed, to purge well. Follow this up with one or two Pills every night, or every second night, to keep the bowels well open, for a week or two. After that, repeat this process if needed.

Most cases are rapidly cured in this way; but when the blood is scrofulous or humory, or the person weak and thin in flesh, or the stomach out of order, the cure will be much more rapid and permanent if RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron is also used. Take a dose of it on rising and every four hours, and RUSH'S Pills at the same time, as above directed, and persevere till you are cured. The Pills clear the stomach, liver, and bile-ducts of their foul coating and slime, make the liver active, and start the whole machinery of the bowels into healthy action. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron purifies the blood and assists the stomach to digest good, strong, and healthy food, by which the blood is renewed, and the whole system rapidly built up. No medicine without Iron can do this as fast or as well.

In JAUNDICE, where the signs are seen that belong to it, as above mentioned; purge well with RUSH'S Pills. Give three or four every night, to purge thoroughly for several days, and observe the rapid improvement.

Calomel, or Blue-Pill, in all cases of Liver Complaint, affords only temporary relief, has to be resorted to more and more frequently, and finally ruins the system. Bilious Complaints and Bilious Stomach are Liver Complaints in their nature, and should be treated exactly as above.

Rev. JARED STEVENS, of Salem, Mass., writes: I have found RUSH'S Pills of great service in my family, not only as the best purgative I ever tried, but also for Biliousness, Jaundice, and sour and foul stomach, arising from dyspeptic disorder.

Miss MARY BENTON, of Hagerstown, Md., testifies to their value for the above complaints, and writes as follows: "I consider it a duty and a privilege to acknowledge the good one box of RUSH'S Pills has done for me. I was recommended to me by a friend who had also been cured by them, and I gave them a fair trial, and found the benefit I hoped for very promptly produced."

Mrs. LOUISA A. FERNALD, of Westford street, Lowell, states that she had been troubled with Bilious and Liver Complaints for several years, and was cured by taking less than three bottles of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. She says that in warm weather she is obliged to take a few doses to prevent a return, and also uses RUSH'S Pills for the same purpose.

Mr. A. G. BROWN, of Lynn, Mass., writes: "Dear Sir: I gladly certify that RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron has cured me of BILIOUSNESS, from which I have suffered for more than eight years. I have tried all the common kinds of Sarsaparilla, Compound Extracts, etc., but they did me little or no good. I have now taken six bottles of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, and also used two boxes of RUSH'S Pills, and enjoy better health than before in ten years."

Mr. C. GARTHER, Middletown, N. Y., writes: "I have been complaining for more than eight months with Biliousness and Liver complaint, and your medicine (SARSAPARILLA & IRON and PILLS) have done me more good than anything that I have ever taken. In short, I am cured."

COLDS, FEVERS, AND INFLAMMATORY ATTACKS arise from an increased action of the blood-vessels of the whole system, or of the part affected, accompanied by pain and heat, and sometimes redness and swelling. This feverishness begins with chills, or a feeling of chilliness, and soreness in the limbs or all over the body, and is followed, if neglected, by severe fever. RUSH'S Pills are the very best medicine to break up a cold, and prevent a run of fever, and will always give quick relief if taken in full doses when such attacks come on. They do this by exciting a free action from the liver and bowels, and clearing them from obstructions. If a cold or fever is more severe than above described, keep the feet hot and give water with an drinka pleasan This pill relieves the cooie blood-vessels, softens the pulse, and the skin to perspire, and with sweating and the operation of pills, the heat and fever are carried DIARRHŒA results, in cases, from eating unripe fruit or other indigestible food, which irritates the bowels. RUSH'S Pills causing a free action promptly by removing such offending causes. DR. WATSON WILKINSON, Pittsboro, Pa., writes: "In common cases of Diarrhœa I prefer RUSH'S PILLS any other remedy. A good should be given; they operate kindly and quickly, and with their operation the diarrhœa at once disappears."

COSTIVENESS.—PILES.—These troubles are usually brought on by the same causes as Dyspepsia (page 15), are symptoms of it, and require the same treatment. RUSH'S Pills are always safe and effective. Take one or two pills each night at bedtime, or enough to produce a free operation in the morning. Continue this plan for a week or ten days, and then try to have an operation the same time in the morning, without them. If this does not succeed, continue with the pills again for a week or more. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron is the best cure for Costiveness and Piles of long standing. Take it according to directions, using also RUSH'S PILLS with it as just directed, till the bowels are well regulated.

HEADACHES, both NERVOUS and SICK or BILIOUS, are much caused by costiveness, biliousness, disorder of the stomach or liver, tendency or rush of blood to the head. There is no one medicine that will cure so many such cases as RUSH'S PILLS. When the cause of such disorders are known or suspected, avoid them carefully, and keep the bowels well open with RUSH'S PILLS, taken as above directed, which the blood will be drawn from the head, the liver and bowels made active, and the stomach cleared of its foul coating of slime, thus the headache be cured.

best medicines to ve the heavy stag- humors that ac- late during the r, are RUSH'S Sar- illa & Iron and

This they do ly, safely, and ghly restoring tire system.

MRS. LUCY A. LYDSTON, Providence, R. I., May 20th, 1879, writes: "For several years I have suffered dread- fully with sick headaches and costiveness, finding no relief. Within a few months I have been entirely cured by your RUSH'S PILLS."

WORMS—Give a child a dose of RUSH'S PILLS to purge briskly, which will bring away worms if there are any. If more are suspected give, in the morn- ing, a weak tea of worm-seed or pink-root (steep 10 grains in a teacupful of water two hours for a dose), and at night one more of RUSH'S PILLS. You may kill Pin-worms by injections of lime-water. Worms show a humory state of the system, and a return of them may be expected unless this humor is cured by RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron.

THE ALTERATIVE effect of RUSH'S PILLS in the most serious diseases of long standing, where alleviation only can be expected, is very remarkable. Confirmed invalids and regular pill-takers find our Pills exceedingly pleasant and efficacious.

Miss MARY P. DUANE, near Owego, N. Y., writes: "In 1854 I became seriously ill with Spinal Disease, which seemed to shatter my system. For more than three years I was confined to my room, and since then, often better and often worse, have had dyspep- sia in its worst form, and have been very bilious all the time. At times I have severe bilious attacks, with terrible vomitings for a day and night of green and bitter bile. A short time since, I procured a box of RUSH'S PILLS, and am happy to say that they give me more relief than I have ever before experi- enced from any one medicine. They operate curi- ously in my case; for as soon as the effect of one is gone, I have to take another immediately. Last night I felt so comfortable that I thought I would omit taking the pill; well, I fell asleep, and about two o'clock I awoke very nervous and in distress. It seemed as if the powers of circulation were earnestly pleading for aid. I got up and took a pill, and felt better as soon as it could take effect. I see it will not do for me to be without RUSH'S PILLS."

As a DINNER PILL, RUSH'S PILLS are found by free eaters, with whom the liver and bowels are sluggish, to be very effectual. One pill taken im- mediately after a hearty dinner will insure its easy digestion, and one free operation the next morning. Persons of bilious habit find them a most comfort- able and satisfactory medicine to use in this way after eating or drinking too freely. The unpleasant effects which often follow, such as acidity, nausea, and heartburn, are thus obviated. Such persons will also find a dose of RUSH'S Bitters before break- fast, very comforting to the stomach.

MANY PHYSICIANS of celebrity testify to the merits of RUSH'S PILLS. The most eminent chem- ist in France, M. F. REGNAULT, Professor of Chemistry in the University of Paris, in whose laboratory Dr. FLANDERS perfected RUSH'S Medicines, writes:

"I regard RUSH'S Pills, as prepared by Professor FLANDERS, to be, as to their chemical combination, as nearly perfect as possible. Not being a practising physician, I am not acquainted with their curative properties; but, judging from the American plants used in their preparation, I have no doubt that they are an excellent family purgative."

Dr. ALEXANDER, of St. Louis, writes: "RUSH'S Pills, though entirely vegetable, act upon disorders of the liver with all the certainty of Blue Pill or Calomel, but without their injurious effects. They are evidently the best substitute for mercurials ever discovered. They not only restore the healthy secretions of the liver, but also, by their alterative action, restore to a healthy condition all the secretions of the stomach and bowels which assist digestion. I have seen cases where these organs have been renovated by RUSH'S Pills, and the result was good digestion of healthy food, and good blood, strength, muscle, and health to the patient."

Dr. THOMAS FLANDERS, of Durham, N. H., Surgeon in the War of 1812, writes: "I have used RUSH'S Pills, or substantially the same, in my own practice for fifty-three years, and consider them the best purgative and cleansing pills ever prepared. They have, however, through the aid of modern chemistry been very much improved of late."

Dr. A. T. JOHNSON, a well-known and highly popular dentist, at Lowell, Mass., writes: "I have used RUSH'S Pills and RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, prepared by Dr. FLANDERS, and have received much benefit from the same. Several of my friends, also, have used RUSH'S Medicines with highly pleasing results. I deem RUSH'S Pills the best purgative now in use, and RUSH'S Medicines as equal, if not superior, to any of the various remedies offered to the public, for the curing of various ailments for which they are designed.

A. T. JOHNSON.

THE PRESS also speaks of

From the Lowell Vox Populi

"We are credibly informed that cures by RUSH'S Medicines of peptic, Scrofulous, and Consumptive diseases, in this city and vicinity, become numerous. We heartily commend the pills, of our own observation, as being the most pleasant and effectual that we know of."

From the Journal of Medical Reform

"RUSH'S Pills we know from experience to be a superior article. They have the advantage of being the sugar-coated Mandrake Pills—the article that seems destined to take the place of mercurials as the best for the Liver."

From the Household Physician

"Through the politeness of Dr. FLANDERS, the proprietor of RUSH'S Medicines, we have just received a package of RUSH'S Buchu & Lung Balm, and Sarsaparilla & Iron. We are satisfied that they are valuable remedies, and desire particular mention of RUSH'S Pills as pleasant to take, and very searching and efficient in their purgative action."

"Our readers will find in RUSH'S Pills a sure remedy for Costiveness, the bane of sedentary men, and no less for Liver Complaints, as we know from experience."

They'll give your blood a lively flow—

If you are sick, your aches will cease—
If you these famous PILLS embrace—
Then keep your money in your pocket—
Instead of paying doctors' bill—
And for your ills use RUSH'S PILLS.

TWELVE GOOD REASONS

Why you should use RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron:

1st. You are weak from lack of IRON in the blood.

2d. You feel half sick, or have humors, eruptions, pimples, or blotches, caused by your blood being impure; and this medicine will cure it.

3d. Sarsaparilla and Iron combined have their virtues greatly increased by combination.

4th. A plenty of IRON in the blood contributes to strength of body, and produces those desirable electric and magnetic conditions which attend health.

5th. The materials used are perfectly pure, and are selected and prepared with great care.

6th. It contains no injurious ingredient that could harm a child, or the most delicate person.

7th. It is pleasant to take, and does not cause headache or constipation, as do other kinds of IRON.

8th. The IRON in this medicine is already in the state of very fine particles, and therefore easy to unite with the fine particles of the blood.

9th. It is the best possible SPRING MEDICINE, and a rapid cure for bad condition of health arising from change of weather or season.

10th. If you are only a little out of sorts, it will help you to perform more mental or bodily labor, by building your system up to the standard of vigorous and normal health, and prevent FALL FEVERS.

11th. SCROFULA, with all diseases of the Skin, Bilious Disorders, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver and Female Complaints, are rapidly cured by it.

12th. The bottle is large, and the dose small, and you get a great deal of medicine for your money.

THE READER may find good proof of the above in the next few pages.

THE SARSAPARILLA we use is selected in Central America, at the time of year when the plant is strongest in medical virtues, and afterward, when united with the Iron, is also combined with the concentrated juices of the most powerful blood purifying and anti-scrofulous plants known in our own Medical Botany, all gathered with equal care.

THE IRON used is in the state of very fine and minutely divided particles, and when combined with the juices of the Sarsaparilla and these other plants, is very like the fine and magnetic iron contained in the blood of every healthy man.

Long experience has proved that RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron cannot be made stronger, or in any way altered, without injury to the sum of its medical virtues.

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS OF Healthy Human Blood shows in 1,000 parts: Water, 790; red disks, or particles (coloring matter containing the iron), 127; albumen (like white of egg), 80; fibrin, 3; total, 1,000. In all diseases of debility, of which Scrofula, and those hereafter described, are the chief, the watery part increases, and the red disks containing the iron diminish. According to eminent physiologists, these red disks have the power of reproducing themselves, and are therefore the very life of the blood; but this wonderful process is impossible without a suitable supply of Iron. These red disks penetrate and invigorate, not only the lungs, liver, and brain, but also every little pore of the whole body. They are uniformly diffused through the entire blood, which, in a healthy man, weighs about thirty-five pounds. They are very finely and delicately formed: three thousand make but one inch in length; yet they contain all the Iron in the body. Hence we see the importance of taking the Iron as a medicine in a delicate form and state of fine particles, as it is prepared in RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron.

In all diseases known by weakness, debility, or a humory condition of system; in fact, in nearly all slow, or chronic disorders, no eminent physician will deny that such IRON is both lacking in the blood, and very beneficial when given as a medicine, if it will agree with the sick person.

The best medical men, also, now admit that IRON is a very important element of healthy blood in giving that strength of body which attends perfect health. Why not, then, the reader asks, give IRON in all these cases? We answer that the common kinds of IRON are too coarse, and not in the right chemical and magnetic condition to be taken up, and readily united, with the disordered blood. Little or no benefit results, therefore, from their use, and head-ache and other disturbances occur.

BY CHEMICALLY COMBINING the IRON with SARSAPARILLA, as in our medicine, this is avoided: the IRON, which was before crude, and not suitable for delicate stomachs, assumes the form of very fine particles, just such as are found in the blood, and now agrees with the most sensitive persons, females, children, and even consumptives, who cannot take the common preparations of Iron. The appetite derives great benefit from this medicine. The patient who formerly ate abundant and hearty food, which he is now able to digest, the IRON helps to convert it into blood, and delay into rich and healthy blood. In this manner his health and strength are renewed. "The great secret thereof is the life thereof, which renovates the blood, and restores the whole system. The reader may see on page 18 a letter from Dr. RUSH explaining how long this process generally takes.

SCROFULA, or KING'S EVIL, is a disease, of which nearly one-half of the human race is afflicted. It is the direct cause of Consumption of the Lungs, the Brain-Dropsy of Children, the Eruptions and Diseases of the Skin, and most of the dangerous diseases of the Liver, Heart, and Female Complaints, and the dangerous diseases of the Liver, Heart are nearly always complicated with it or made worse by it.

SCROFULA begins in the blood, and is carried by it to every pore of the system. Hence, the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, and other organs become feeble and lifeless, the forces of the body weakened, and the entire mechanism of the body decayed, festering as it were, rotted out. It is safe to say that when eruptions, pimples, ringworms, sores, and blotches appear on the skin, we may be sure of a lurking corruption.

The reader should not, therefore, be surprised to find that RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, the great Blood-Purifier and Scrofula Cure, is also a cure for many different states of the system.

THE CAUSES of Scrofula are many. It is often transmitted from father to son. In general, we may state that all causes that break down the vigor of body, or corrupt the blood, bring on Scrofula.

THE SIGNS of Scrofula are a pale, bloated face, often fair, very white skin and fine redness of the cheeks; a sickly yellow hue round the mouth, livid circles round the eyes, and the pearly whiteness of the whites of the eyes.

eyes, threatening consumption, whites of the eyes red and injected, threatening dyspepsia; the eyelids often run, or are red and inflamed; the teeth are foul next to the gums with a greenish or glairy slime, or crack and break easily and decay early; the appetite is not regular, but bad, or too good; the tongue and breath are foul; nausea and sick headache, sour stomach, piles, and constipation, or diarrhoea, are common; the flesh is flabby; the limbs lack firmness; there may be leanness and general weakness.

In other cases humors and eruptions of the skin and scalp are very common; the glands of the neck, armpits, and other parts swell, or inflame and ulcerate; there is always a want of vigor of body and mind. A scrofulous child grows fast; the bones and limbs are small, weak, and crooked, producing deformity, which disorder is called RICKETS. The skin shows Scrofula when we find Erysipelas, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetters, Salt Rheum, Tumors, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, and Sores.

Not all of the above signs will be found in any one person; but any of them indicate the hidden and lurking contamination, which at any time may break out into open eruptions, attack the lungs in the form of consumption, or the liver in the form of tumors. Softening of the brain is often thus caused, and slow ulcerations may seize upon other vital organs, no less than upon bones, joints, and muscles.

RUSH'S SARSAPARILLA & IRON is the cure for Scrofula. It far exceeds any other known medicine, not only in its power over scrofulous disease, but in the quality it possesses of purifying the blood from every sort of taint, and restoring it to a healthy condition. This may be better understood if we consider the perfection attained in its ingredients and preparation, as already stated.

DIRECTIONS for the Cure of Scrofula.—RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron should be taken for any and all of the conditions and symptoms just described, in the dose of a teaspoonful after breakfast and tea and on going to bed, and two teaspoonfuls after dinner. After taking it a week, increase the dose a little, by taking two teaspoonfuls or a small tablespoonful after each meal, and one at bedtime. The dose of a tablespoonful should not be exceeded; for though it would do no serious harm, slight sickness at the stomach might result, and the medicine would do less good instead of more. Persons who begin taking it for Scrofula should do so with the resolution of persevering until some impression is made, for then the disease will begin to disappear. A reasonable time for curing Scrofula with our medicine is not less than two or three months, and many sufferers whose entire systems were festering with noisome corruptions have been cured after perseveringly taking it from six months to a year. bad cases it may be best to stop for a while. On beginning again a cure, with perseverance, will result.

TESTIMONIALS, from a great number on hand, will show the nature of the cures performed:

Mr. J. COLLINS, No. 11 Cottage St., Roxbury, Mass., states that his wife Sarah has had Scrofula Humor, with running and scabbing of head and hairy scalp, for more than twenty years, and has now been cured by five bottles of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. After the first bottle the scabs began to come off. Her appetite and general health during the process of cure became very much improved.

Mrs. ANNA E. CLARK, Madison, N. Y., writes: "If once cured of the King's Evil, will it ever trouble me again? I had three sores on my neck which doctors said was King's Evil, and I have remained cured of them for more than five years by using RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. I should like to know if Scrofula and King's Evil are one and the same; also, if it would be inherited from a person cured. I now enjoy perfectly good health: never better than since I used your medicine." The answer to the above is that Scrofula and King's Evil are the same thing. Persons cured by our Sarsaparilla & Iron do not transmit the disease to offspring, and are not liable to any return of it.

Mr. JOHN CHASE, Minot, Me., writes: "I wish to tell you of a wonderful cure made by RUSH'S Medicines. Mr. J. Kimball, of Lewiston, Me., was afflicted with Scrofula from his youth. When I first saw him he seemed to be completely rotten with it. I have traveled in the Eastern States for several years, as a medicine dealer, and can safely say that I never saw a case that seemed worse; he was, as one might say, one Solid Scab. He had been under the care of the best doctors, had tried Iodine, Iodide of Potassa, and all such, without help; the then the most celebrated Sarsaparilla such as are Resolvents with little now agrees and worse by some of persons, female commended RUSH'S consumptives, &c. The first three bottles of it did him more good all he had ever taken before, at the time he had taken twelve bottles he was quite cured."

WM. B. RICHMOND, Esq., of Falls, R. I., writes, Dec. 13, 1870: "Sir: Inclosed are twenty-five for which send me a copy of Family Physician. I know the of your medicines in my own and have seen cures of Scrofula those stated in your Almanac."

Mrs. JANE HOLMES, of Somers, Mass., a lady well advanced in years who had a very bad form of Scrofula humor in her head and face for years, was cured by about ten bottles of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron.

Mr. J. MESERVE, Bangor, Me., 6th, 1877, writes: "Dr. FLANDER Dear Sir: I have learned much experience of the virtues and properties of RUSH'S Medicines, particularly of the Sarsaparilla & Iron, for Scrofula and other complaints. I have also seen their effects in other cases, and believe are unequalled."

Rev. JOHN M. CLEMENS, St. Paul, Pa., writes: "I have implicit confidence in RUSH'S Medicines, and used them with great success in my family. Many cures of Scrofula have witnessed. Without exception, I believe them to possess qualities for the renovation of the system than which no superior can be found. God bless you for the good you are doing afflicted humanity."

Persons whose systems seem to have been completely corrupted through out with Scrofula, should take RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron regularly, in full doses, when it will soon be seen that the system is gaining strength and energy and becoming clear of the foul taint. The following confirm this:

WILLIE JOHNSON, a young man nineteen, writes from Reading, Pa., August 26th, 1878: "DEAR DOCTOR: I have suffered, ever since my childhood, with inherited Scrofula. I have tried everything I heard of, without getting any relief. I had sores which were like four running holes in my arm."

in my leg. They had discharged pieces of bone. My leg was swelled below the knee, where holes were, resembling erysipelas. My arm was swelled round the elbow. Three of the holes in my leg were large, and discharged a great deal. I have now taken twelve bottles of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, which I began taking five months since. The first six bottles did the most good, and I thought I was about well then; but I am glad I kept on, hoping for a perfect cure, and have not been disappointed. The redness and swelling are now gone, and only small scars remain to show the place where the sores were. I feel like the man described in the Bible that was cured of leprosy."

A remarkable cure of Scrofula and dyspepsia of ISAAC F. CURTIS, Esq., a prominent citizen of North Bridgewater, Mass., by RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, was effected in about four months. He had swelled and ulcerated glands, and was full of Scrofula, and very weak and thin. Mr. CURTIS says that money without health is not worth much of a blessing.

HENRY W. BROWN, Boott Corporation, Lowell, Mass., states that he had a running sore on his leg, which discharged a great deal for nearly a year; he also had sores in his neck, which broke out one after another; and was subject to humors, pimples, and blotches all over his body. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron entirely cured him in about three months. The improvement began very soon after he commenced taking it. He then weighed 140 pounds, and now weighs 160 pounds. He had taken various kinds of Sarsaparilla, also Iodide of Potash and Iodide of Iron, with very little benefit. The above case shows that RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron has much more power in curing Scrofula than the Sarsaparillas of the shops, or Iodide of Potash, or Iodide of Iron, though these are esteemed among the very best.

JOELIA FENTON writes from Philadelphia: "Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: At the time you were Professor in the Medical College here I had from childhood been very bad with inherited Scrofula. I had swelled and ulcerated glands in my neck and on my limbs, and an itching and burning tetter on my hands and arms; sometimes on my face and in my hair. I could not cure it or dry it up in one place, and then it would break out in another. The doctors said, if I did cure it on the outside, it would only strike in, and turn into consumption; so I despaired of being better, till one day I was at the college, and you told me to take RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. I had always used his Pills, and liked them, and so did as you said. In two months I took six bottles, and was very nearly cured. Three more quite cured me, and so I happily remain."

BLACK-HEADS, Comedones, or pimples of the face, forehead, and back, also known as Acne, or worms, show a humory state of blood, arising from Scrofula, and are caused by it. The cure for this unpleasant affection is to purify the blood by RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, taken in rather small doses, say a large teaspoonful, but continued patiently from six to eight months, or more. At the same time keep all the black-heads squeezed out, also the pimples when they become festered, and can be cleared out with a large needle and the fingers without causing much pain. By doing this the pits will gradually close up, and, as the blood becomes purified, leave the skin and complexion clear. The bowels, if at all costive, must be kept well open and regular by RUSH'S Pills, taken about one every night or every second night, which will assist the cure.

DISEASES OF THE SKIN are caused by Scrofula or like humors in nearly all cases. Of these the different kinds of Salt Rheum and Erysipelas are the chief. SALT RHEUM, also called Eczema, or Humid Tetter, is an eruption known by watery blisters, small, and in patches, with chafing and running, which hardens into scabs. The scarf-skin peels off; the skin looks red and inflamed, and there

The public praise

RUSH'S BITTERS as a genial and scientific tonic, rich in flavor, combining the finest harmony of palatable and healthful ingredients with the most perfect article for the stomach. RUSH'S Bitters prove not only the best to the taste, but of the highest value for MEDICAL USE.

skin looks red and inflamed, and there is much itching and itching. On the face or head, with running and scabbing, it is called Impetigo.

Another kind of Salt Rheum is called dry tettes, dry itch. We know this by an eruption of pimples ranged in rows, with redness of the skin which soon disappears, leaving it thickened, rough with its folds and creases enlarged. A slight dark color may remain; and there is usually a severe itching, especially at night. It prefers the hands, face and neck, but may take any part of the body. This eruption is not caused by an itch-insect, and can be cured by ointments.

Another kind of dry Salt Rheum is known by slightly white scurf folded over and over, sticking close to the skin, and covering a dark red, thickened, slightly projecting surface. It may be in patches or cover large surfaces. When present at all, it is found on or about the elbows or knees.

All kinds of Salt Rheum require a course of purging, by giving RUSH'S Pills every night or every second night; dose, two or three pills, or enough to work well. At the same time, do not fail to take RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. Continue thus until improvement begins, when the pills may be left off, but continue the Sarsaparilla & Iron until a complete cure takes place, as directed for Scrofula. Do not make any greasy applications. Boil about a teaspoonful of starch in a quart or two of water, and use it cold as a wash, or on cloths, to allay the irritation, burning, and itching, applying it plentifully.

SIMEON BARBEE, Tuscaloosa, Ala., writes: "For two or three years I have had small scaly eruptions near the elbows or knees, and spreading and covering much of the skin. Fine scales or scabs were continually falling off, and the itching and burning was almost unendurable. Everything I used for it failed till I tried your Sarsaparilla & Iron, when it began to improve at once. It took about three months to cure me completely with your medicine, and I found the cure went on faster when I took RUSH'S Pills also.

ERYSIPELAS humor, also called Rose, or St. Anthony Fire, is known by redness, itching, burning, and smarting. There may be some swelling more than in Salt Rheum. The causes and cure are the same for both. They both indicate humor in the blood, which may run into the worst forms of Scrofula, or dangerous Erysipelas of the face and head.

NETTLERASH, Ringworm, Shingles and other small eruptions, which arise from humor of heat, etc., are quickly cured by RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. THOMAS MALTHOUSE, Esq., Allegheny City, Pa., writes, April 5th, 1879: "I desire to say that I am using your Sarsaparilla & Iron for a case of Nettlerash, with most gratifying result."

PILLS, Felons, & Abscess are collections of matter or pus, the formation of which is attended by a chill; when fully formed they break themselves, but it is generally better to prevent them, which is the most effectual remedy. Poultice them with cranberry. These painful affections show impurity of the blood, which may result from disease of the lungs or some other internal organ. This may always be prevented by taking RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron.

PORE EYES, Sore Ears, & Ears are usually caused by Scrofula. Cure them all alike with RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. JOHN W. VAN NORDEN, Astoria, N. Y., states that he has a son, who, at one year of age, was afflicted with severe inflammation of both eyeballs and lids. In the use of all medicines and medical treatments they grew worse during three years, until he became nearly blinded from the intense inflammation and accumulation of matter from the eyelids. He suffered great pain from exposure of the eyes to the light, and all hope of relief was about given up. At that time, hearing of cures of Eye and Ear diseases by RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, this medicine was given to the child in suitable small doses, which quickly did good, and after using three bottles he was entirely cured, some slight specks only being left on the eyeballs, showing the severity of the inflammation.

DYSPEPSIA. Indigestion. The symptoms are, briefly, sick-headache, dizziness, and confusion of head; face pale or sallow; bad breath; tongue foul and coated, dry, white, or yellowish; loss of taste in the mouth; want of appetite; sickness at the stomach; after belchings and vomitings; heartburn; sour stomach; flatulence; fulness in the pit of the stomach; clothes at the waist feel tight; cramps at or in the stomach; red urine, with brick-stone sediment; sleep restless; costiveness and piles; the flesh and strength waste away. In most cases the disease begins in the blood, caused wholly in part by Scrofula.

In nearly all cases the liver is the seat of the disease, as well as the stomach; hence medicine, in order to cure one, must cure both. The importance of the liver may be readily understood when we reflect that it weighs about four pounds, and that all the blood in the body, three or four gallons, must pass through it many times a day to have the bile and other impurities separated. The bile is the natural purgative of the bowels; if it is absent, they become inactive and loaded with slime and a foul coating, like that on the tongue and inside of the stomach. If the liver is torpid, from the effects of Scrofula or other causes, the blood remains loaded with these impurities which take the place of and drive out the iron which belongs in it. All the organs of the body then suffer; but the stomach first and most of all, and some of the above named signs appear. You feel sick and depressed, and unfit for the duties of life. Take warning in time, and do not let a dangerous fever or Pulmonary Consumption seize upon you for the want of timely medicine.

RUSH'S Pills give energy to the action of the liver, and help it to clear the blood of waste bile and other impurities. At the same time RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron helps the appetite and completes the purification of the blood, which the Pills have begun, by enabling the stomach to crave and digest an abundance of healthy food, and by supplying it, when digested, with that just proportion of Iron so essential to restore and renew the blood. Under this process of cure you gain flesh, strength, and color; your energy returns; your blood, fresh and pure, tingles through every pore; all your bad feelings are gone; in short, YOU ARE CURED.

DIRECTIONS TO CURE DYSPEPSIA.—Take a dose of RUSH'S Pills on going to bed at night, three or four the first night, and after that one every night or every other night, or enough to move the bowels gently. Do this for a week or ten days, keeping the bowels well open; then omit them for a few days, but take them again as before if the bowels are sluggish.

There is no source so prolific of the ailments that afflict our daily life as bilious disorders. They cause headaches, dizziness, sickness at the stomach, costiveness, indigestion, heartburn, bad complexion, and jaundice, besides all troubles of the liver. RUSH's Pills are the remedy for every kind of bilious trouble.

Take RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron at the same time as directed, TILL CURED. In many cases there is an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach, cold and torpor of body, cold hands and feet, want of appetite at breakfast, slight flashes of heat, chills, bowels irregular, extreme weariness, restlessness at night; or, with very many, almost named uncomfortable feelings and sensations. In such cases use RUSH's Bitters instead of the Sarsaparilla & Iron.

Mr. JAMES PRICE, of Girardville, Pa., writes: "I have had Dyspepsia with sore throat, for several years, and used many medicines for it, with little or no relief, till I called on the druggist who distributed your Almanacs. He advised the use of RUSH's Pills and Bitters, and I now find myself, after using them about two months, entirely well, and in better spirits than I ever again expected to be."

The next letters are from a Captain and Lieutenant at Fort Lincoln, D. C., to whom we sent a box of medicines by the Sanitary Commission:

"Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: Few are the men who have suffered what I have with Indigestion and Piles. I have been on the sick list the greater part of my time, being unable to attend to duty. I was nearly given up, when one day the Captain came to my quarters and told me if I would only take RUSH's Pills and Sarsaparilla & Iron that you sent me, I would soon be well. I began taking it at noon; and some twice, and the Pills at night, and I had never slept so well for a year as I did that night; in the morning I felt better than I ever had since my arrival at Fort Lincoln. I have now used three bottles of a box of Pills, and, thanks be to God and your medicine, I am well. I relish my hard tack; in fact everything I eat agrees with me. The boys (as we call the soldiers) think RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron saved my life, as well as that of the Captain.

"Your obliged friend, S. H. FIELD."

The Captain of the same company writes:

"Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: Allow me to express my thanks to you for your Sarsaparilla & Iron, and for your Lung Balm and Pills. The bottles you sent us have not only cured me of Scrofula humor, but have been of great benefit to several of my men. I thank God that a medicine has at last come before the public that is a sure cure for Scrofula, Indigestion, and Liver Complaint, as we found RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron. Believe me, yours, JAMES HERVEY."

"Capt. Co. B. 1st Regt. Artil."

Mrs. PHEBE M. DAVIS, Warwick, Orange Co., N. H., writes, February 7th, 1876:

"Dr. FLANDERS—Kind Sir: Enclosed please find a check and send me six bottles of RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron. The few bottles I sent for a short time since have done me more good for my Dyspepsia than I thought."

able; more than ever I received so short a time before, for I have seen a great many prescriptions and different kinds of medicine."

AD BREATH is a sure sign of a disordered stomach. The remedy is RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, three times a day. RUSH'S Pills should be taken every night or every other night, until the tongue clears.

MANY PHYSICIANS of celebrity testify to the value of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. Old Dr. BENJAMIN RUSH himself, Surgeon-General of the United States Army, and originator of this medicine, says in one of his lectures as follows:

"For all diseases with debility, and especially those of a scrofulous nature, I have found the greatest benefit from this preparation of Sarsaparilla & Iron. The Sarsaparilla is an agent of the highest value, and, by cleansing the blood, purifies the entire system of diseased humors and brings about a healthy reaction. The iron very much promotes the efficacy of the medicine, and at the same time provides the necessary blood-food, and the sustenance and increase of the vital fluid. It is to be hoped that some future time an improved chemistry will point out a way in which these two great remedies may be chemically combined. We may then expect to make radical cures of Scrofula and Consumption."

HIS IMPROVEMENT of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, thus hinted at by the great Dr. RUSH, he never lived to see accomplished; and it was not until the year 1858 that this chemical combination was first effected by Prof. THOMAS FLANDERS. The anticipations of Dr. RUSH have been quite realized in the healing powers thus perfected, as now fully proved.

SOLON RUSSELL, M.D., Professor in the College of Pharmacy, writes:

Dr. A. H. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: The box of RUSH'S Medicines which you were good enough to send I have made use of for some months past, and will now comply with your request to state what I think of their merits. RUSH'S Pills, or substantially the same preparation, I have long regarded as the best purgative in use. As prepared by you I find it more efficacious than ever. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron I have found effectual in every case in which I have tried it. Two cases of confirmed Scrofula were cured where I did not expect it. Indeed, we cannot get along without Iron in chronic diseases, and I prefer your preparation, for the disorders for which you recommend it, to any other I am acquainted with. In my opinion, the combination of the Sarsaparilla with the Iron adds to the virtue of both, and I may say the same of RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. The chemical processes by which you prepare your medicines are beautifully, and I may say wonderfully perfect, and can be carried out with success only on a large scale. Yours truly,

SOLON RUSSELL."

THE EDITOR of the Journal of Medical Reform, writes: "The Fluid Extracts of Buchu and Sarsaparilla are fast being superseded by RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron and Buchu & Iron, which, by improvements in Medical Chemistry, are now prepared at a less cost than the Fluid Extracts, and a larger quantity of medicine is afforded at the same price. The combination with the Iron, moreover, adds very much to their medical virtues and properties."

THOMAS FLANDERS, M.D., of Durham, N. H., a physician of fifty years' experience, and Surgeon in the war of 1812, states: "I am acquainted with the medical properties of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, and think highly of it for all diseases of debility, and for Scrofulous, Dyspeptic, and Bilious disorders. I have lately taken this medicine myself for dyspeptic and other complaints, attended with great prostration and debility, and have been very much benefited by it. Dr. A. H. FLANDERS, who prepares RUSH'S Medicines, has had great opportunities for education and experience in America and Europe, not only in MEDICAL CHEMISTRY, but also in all branches of Medicine. I

Purity, cleanse, and enrich the blood with Rush's Sarsaparilla & Iron. It is the safest and best of all medicines in spring and summer; Rush's Pills often needed with it.

RUSH'S Bitters—just what the aged need for the nameless ills and bad feelings peculiar to declining years.

regard RUSH'S Medicines as the best now offered the public, and worthy of public confidence."

Dr. A. T. JOHNSON, a well known and popular dentist at Lowell, Mass., writes:

I have used RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron and RUSH'S Pills, prepared by Dr. FLANDERS, and have received much benefit from the same. Several of my friends also, have used RUSH'S Medicines, with highly pleasing results. I deem RUSH'S Pills the best cathartic now in use, and RUSH'S Medicines as equal, if not superior, to any of the various remedies offered to the public for the curing of various ailments for which they are designed. "A. T. JOHNSON."

LIVER & Bilious Complaints, Biliousness, Bilious Stomach, & Liver Disease

are rapidly cured by RUSH'S Medicines. See page

DIARRHŒA.—SUMMER COMPLAINT.—Many cases result from irritating or undigested food.

is therefore a good plan to clear the bowels at first by a good dose of RUSH'S Pills, and then a few doses of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. Two teaspoonfuls every three hours will complete the cure. In obstinate cases you may give RUSH'S Bitters with Sarsaparilla & Iron. Dose, two tablespoonfuls; for a child, less. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron will surely prevent all kinds of Summer Complaints. Take seasonably—in May, June, and July. It is the very best medicine for spring and early summer.

DIARRHŒA, when chronic, is speedily cured by RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron.

The following, from Mr. S. V. SIMPSON, Chelmsford, Mass., shows a like cure:—"Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: I have taken two bottles of your Sarsaparilla & Iron, and it has cured me of Chronic Diarrhœa, which I took in the army, and have had more or less, for three years. I am as well as ever now, and owe my health wholly to your Sarsaparilla & Iron. My doctors had given me up as past permanent cure, when I began taking it. In two months I was able to do a good day's work. Please send me another bottle, as I want to keep some on hand."

CANKER in the mouth, stomach, or bowels, is cured very rapidly by RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron.

Mrs. JAMES K. PARKER, Lowell, Mass., writes:

"Prof. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: I have been for twenty years very much afflicted with Canker in the mouth and had used all the usual remedies for that disease as prescribed by my physician, but without any permanent relief. A friend of mine, who had taken your Sarsaparilla & Iron, urged me to try a bottle. I did so, and found it benefited me so much that I have now taken five bottles, and am free from canker, and I advise all who are thus afflicted to procure RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, as my neighbor says, too, that it is a sure cure for canker and all other humors."

CATARRH, with continual running at the nose or dropping into the throat, is usually caused by scrofulous or other bad humors. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron cures all such cases.

DR. A. M. MORRILL, Chapel Hill, N. C., writes: "I have been troubled with Catarrh in my head, and also with Scrofula humor. I had tried everything I saw advertised, but without relief, until a friend told me of the virtues of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. I thought I could do no less than try one bottle. I have now taken eight bottles, and it has cured me of the humor and Catarrh."

A SPRING MEDICINE FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD, or General Weakness and Debility, RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron is used with the best effect. As a spring medicine it cures by purifying the blood, and by its alterative effect counteracting the bad feelings and ailments from a rapid change of season.

LEAH W. STEARNS, Druggist, of Northford, Mass., writes: "RUSH'S Medicine in all cases have given great satisfaction. One young lady has been twice relieved of severe attacks of Asthma by the Lung Balm. Another, who had been living in a family in Boston, came home in the spring in a very low state of health. Her mother told me she could neither eat nor sleep, and the doctors said her blood was all gone. He was afraid he would lose her. I recommended RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. The first bottle relieved her so that she could go to work. She took three or four bottles and two boxes of RUSH'S Pills, and returned in good health."

DR. J. JACKMAN, Esq., Weathersfield, Vt., writes: "Dear Sir: Last fall I sent you for a bottle of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron for my wife, whose health had long been delicate, and the doctors could do nothing for her. She took three bottles more, all which acted like a charm; her health is now the best it has been for five years, and to your medicine."

CONSUMPTION OF THE LUNGS.—Any exhausting and debilitating causes may produce weakness, leanness, and poverty and thinness of the blood. It becomes more watery than in a healthy state, and less rich in the blood-disks, or coloring matter. Science has proved that a certain proportion of iron, in a very fine and magnetic condition, is indispensable in the red globules or blood-disks, which are the very life of the blood. Without this proportion of iron the blood is unable to restore the daily waste of the whole body. The best remedy ever discovered for renewing and purifying the blood is RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron.

In many cases one bottle will prove sufficient: but in cases of great emaciation and debility arising from lung fever, loss of blood, wounds, scrofula, secondary syphilis, premature decay, and the like, a course of from three to six months, or even a year, may be necessary for a perfect cure. In such cases as the above the soft glow of returning health will richly repay perseverance. For chemical analysis of healthy blood see page 9.

FACE-ACHE. TIC-DOLOUREUX. SCIATICA. NEURALGIA.—These are all nerve pains. In the first named, or face-ache, we find shooting, cutting, and tearing pain about the eyes, face below the eye, and temple. Permanent cure will generally be found for this complaint, for Sciatica, and for all other kinds of Neuralgia, by taking RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, which strengthens the whole system and enables it to throw off the disease.

Miss EMMA COATES, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron has cured me of Neuralgia of a very severe form. I would not be without it on any consideration."

EPILEPSY.—FALLING-SICKNESS.—FITS.—A person seized with this disorder falls instantly, wherever he may be, and is unconscious and convulsed, with set teeth, frothing at the mouth, clinched hands, and staring eyes. The necktie and waistband should be loosened, and care taken that the patient does not injure himself by his struggles. A fit only lasts, in general, for a few minutes, and then passes off of itself.

A clear Skin and fine complexion follow the use of Rush's Sarsaparilla and Iron; it is the great Blood Purifier; by its aid are removed black spots, pimples, patches, and eruptions of the skin. Young men out of health find RUSH's Buchu & Iron the best for their needs. See page 26.

If such attacks of fits occur frequently the patient will be seriously injured. The cure may be secured as sure from using RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron; and RUSH's Pills to keep the liver and bowels active. Mr. J. ALLBRIGHT, Pittsburgh, Pa., writes, March 28th, 1876: "I wish to make known the cure of my son, now eighteen years of age, of Epileptic Fits or Falling Sickness. They occurred every five or six days, and seemed to gain upon him. RUSH's Sarsaparilla and Sarsaparilla & Iron, which he has used for six months, have quite cured him. He has had no fits for five weeks, and gains daily in strength."

FEMALE COMPLAINTS are readily and rapidly cured by RUSH's Medicines. See page 81. DRUGGISTS find that RUSH's Medicines sell well and give good satisfaction.

WM. H. VICKERY, an enterprising druggist at Dover, N. H., writes: "RUSH's Medicines give great satisfaction. I have a steady sale of them, especially of RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron, and Buchu & Iron, which are much liked as purifying medicines."

ALFRED HOOPER, Castine, Me., writes: "For the past three years I have sold a large amount of RUSH's Medicines; first in Chelsea, Mass., then in Brooklyn, N. Y., and lately in this place, and have always found them to give excellent satisfaction."

SYPHILIS AND MERCURIAL AFFECTIONS.—The following are some of the disorders which are caused by calomel, blue pill, and other kinds of mercury; Early decay and loss of Teeth; Mercurial Fever; Excessive Salivation; Violent Purging; Chronic Skin Diseases; Inflammation of the Eye, Throat, and Bones; Enlargement of the Glands; Ulceration of the Mouth; Cachexia, General Wasting; and Palsy, and other Neural Affections. RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron is the best known cure for all the above disorders.

"LOCKPORT, N. Y., May 21, 1876."
"Dr. FLANDERS: About three years since I took a great deal of mercury, became salivated, had sore mouth and gums and loose teeth. Mercurial Affection broke out on my body and limbs. I became weak and could not do any work or business. The best physicians and the most popular medical remedies both failed to cure me. The doctors said it was because I was full of Scrofula that everything failed. At this time, hearing of several cures of Scrofula made by RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron, I began taking it. For some time I gained in appetite and strength only, but, continuing the medicine month after month, have been entirely cured by it. G. W. W."

In regard to Syphilis, we may say that all the most distressing and peculiar sufferings of this fearful disease are aggravated, and often in part caused by the common mercurial treatment. In fact, so similar are many of the symptoms of mercury on the system it is often very difficult, where a system has been repeatedly saturated with that most pernicious drug, to determine precisely what part of a disease belongs to each. Scrofula, however, is liable to be mixed up with both. Syphilis at first should have the care of a good physician; but few cases are cured immediately, and nearly all after six weeks or so become chronic, and properly called Secondary. The person is thin in flesh, dispirited, eyes heavy, complains of rheumatic pains, headache, falling out of the hair, want of appetite and sleep. At about the same time, or soon after, various kinds of copper-colored eruptions come out on the skin, such as pimples, blisters, blotches, scales, and patches. Painful swellings of the bones, with severe pain at night, sore throat and gums, and loss of voice are common. These may occur in almost any order and at various intervals of time. The blood and entire system become exceedingly infected and debilitated. In all such cases, both of Mercurial and Secondary Syphilitic Affections (not at all less than for Scrofula), RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron is the surest and most effectual cure known. It should be taken as previously directed for Scrofula, and taken very perseveringly, when the wonderful power of this medicine over such diseases will become apparent. Do not add anything to RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron; you must not add to its power of rebuilding a shattered system.

RUSH'S Pills should be taken for Secondary Syphilis at the same time as RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, because the pills clear the stomach and bowels of their foul slime and coating, and then the Sarsaparilla & Iron, by creating an appetite for good and healthy food, builds up the flesh, strength, and health more rapidly while the purifying process goes on.

A gentleman of Charlestown, Mass., whose name must be withheld, writes: "For four years I have suffered with Secondary Syphilis made worse by mercurial treatment, and further aggravated by Scrofulous humors. I have spent hundreds of dollars for useless or injurious medicines, when I was induced to use RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron and Pills. From the first bottle new life and vigor seemed to run through all my veins, the canker in my throat rapidly disappeared, and now, after taking it a year, and with the help of RUSH'S Pills, I can call myself a sound man.

The following letter is from Washington, D. C.:

"Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: Without any fault of mine, I have for several years been afflicted with Syphilis. I have employed physicians of high repute, taken many kinds of medicine, and paid large sums of money, without finding any more than temporary relief. My woes were numerous and too lengthy to describe. At last, acting on the advice of your agents, W. G. Westwood & Co., I tried your RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. The first week an improvement set in, and now, in a little more than seven months that I have been taking it, have found a steady and progressive cure. This day I feel renovated in health and strength. You must not use my name, but your agents here will certify to the truth of my statement."

The agents named above, W. G. Westwood & Co., write: "We are well acquainted with the circumstances of this cure of Syphilis by RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. We sold to this sick man several kinds of medicine, and prepared many prescriptions for him, which, we are sorry to say, did but little good. Your SARSAPARILLA & IRON, on the contrary, has certainly wrought in his case a very satisfactory cure. He had previously taken much mercury, had sore mouth and throat, copper-colored humors, and severe headaches. At the time he began taking your medicine he was worse than ever, with loss of voice and flesh, hair falling out, and pains in the bones at night, which deprived him of sleep. As the cure went on he gained appetite and strength rapidly, and seemed to get rid of his complaints in about the same order in which they came on."

Is a sovereign remedy for all Kidney and Urinary Complaints, and such as are attended with weakness, pain in the back and loins, disordered liver and stomach, unnatural water, and all other urinary disorders. It is an aromatic stimulant and tonic, and surpasses other like preparations, as much as does RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, and for the same reasons. The combination with Iron is found to promote its curative powers in a high degree. It is prepared by improved chemical processes, invented by the present proprietor, by means of which the active virtues of the Buchu combine directly with the Iron. The energy of both medicines is thus very much increased, and a compound every way superior to any fluid extract is thereby produced, and the highest degree of concentration reached.

GOOD REASONS

Why you should use RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. Because:

1st. You are weak and debilitated from a lack of Iron in your blood.

2d. You are suffering from disorders of the Kidneys, Bladder, Prostatic or Urinary organs, from Gravel, Dropsy, or Rheumatism, or from abuse of the laws of health, or from half-cured diseases; and RUSH'S Buchu & Iron will cure you.

3d. These two medicines combined have their virtues greatly increased by the combination.

4th. A plenty of Iron in the blood contributes to that strength of body and produces those desirable electrical and magnetic conditions, which attend perfect health.

5th. The materials used are perfect pure, and are selected and prepared with great care.

6th. It contains no injurious ingredient that could harm a child or the most delicate person.

7th. It is pleasant to take, and does not cause headache or costiveness like other preparations of Iron.

8th. The Iron in this medicine is already in the state of very fine particles, and therefore easy to unite with the fine particles of the blood.

9th. If you are only a little out of sorts it will enable you to perform more mental or bodily labor by building your system up to the standard of vigorous and normal health.

10th. The bottle is large and the medicine small, and you get a great deal of medicine for your money.

The Reader may find proof of all the above in the next few pages.

CELEBRATED PHYSICIANS and numerous high medical authorities, as well as standard works on medicine, speak highly of it.

Professor PEREIRA, author of the largest work on Materia Medica in the English language, says of the virtues of this medicine:

"BUCHU is an aromatic stimulant and tonic. It promotes the appetite, relieves nausea and flatulence, acts as a diuretic, and for the relief of kidney and urinary affections. The native Indians employ it for chronic diseases of the stomach and bladder. In the country Buchu has been used principally in Chronic Maladies of the urinary genital organs. For chronic inflammation of the bladder, irritable condition of the urethra, prostatic kidney affections, and rheumatism, it has been employed with success. It seemed to have a specific influence over the urinary organs."

The United States Dispensatory states as follows: "BUCHU.—It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, diseases of the Prostate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of the Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Chronic Rheumatism, Dropsy, and Dropsical Affections generally."

Dr. G. J. GUTHRIE, Fellow of the Royal Society of London, in his great work on the Anatomy and Diseases of the Urinary and Sexual Organs, writes:

"The leaves of the Buchu plant, when properly prepared and concentrated, which is not an easy task, are our most valuable medicine in all complaints of the urino-genital organs, such as the kidneys, bladder, prostate, and urethra. The healing properties and virtues of Buchu are very much increased by combining it with Iron; but much depends upon the active virtues of the Buchu being extracted and concentrated in the best manner, and united with the Iron in a very fine and minutely divided state, since all the Iron in the human blood is in a like condition; and upon the presence and perfection of this small amount of Iron, full health, vitality, and manly vigor do much depend." Dr. GUTHRIE, in another place, regrets that many chemists are wholly unable to make any valuable preparation from ordinary Buchu and common Iron. The reader will see, by reading the following certificate, that this great result is now well reached in RUSH'S Buchu & Iron.

Dr. SOLON RUSSELL, a distinguished professor in the New York College of Pharmacy, states:

"I have just completed an analysis of several bottles of RUSH'S Buchu & Iron and RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, selected by me at random from several thousands in the laboratory of Dr. A. H. FLANDERS, in New York. The Iron in these preparations is in a state of very fine particles, and chemically combined with the concentrated virtues of the Buchu or Sarsaparilla. I find the quantity of Iron in each bottle to be about equal in amount to one-sixth of that contained in the system of a strong and healthy man. In short, I find that the Iron in RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, and RUSH'S Buchu & Iron, is combined in these medicines very much as the Iron in the human blood is combined with the red particles, or disks, which give to it its life and color. The above-mentioned quantity of Iron to each bottle is amply sufficient, in my judgment, to act to the best advantage as a curative agent. The entire impure or diseased blood in a human being cannot be renewed in less than six weeks, which is about the time required by RUSH'S Medicines to supply this full amount of Iron with the greatest benefit to the system."

Dr. RUSSELL means to say that, as six bottles of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron or Buchu & Iron contain as much Iron as the blood of a healthy man, and one bottle usually lasts a week or two, six bottles contain Iron enough, and in the right condition, to restore the whole blood of a diseased man in the shortest possible time. It is desirable to have this well explained and understood, because many intelligent persons are apt to suppose, judging from the mild and pleasant taste of RUSH'S Medicines, that they do not contain Iron enough to do much good. Do not add any more Iron of any kind to RUSH'S Buchu & Iron or Sarsaparilla & Iron. You can not improve them any.

These two medicines, in many of their properties, very much resemble each other, the Iron being precisely the same in both. In many cases it is best to use a bottle of one kind, then a bottle of the other, and so on perseveringly until a cure results. The reader can easily determine which of them he needs first, and whether he needs both or not, by reading carefully these pages. They never interfere with each other, and both are certain to do good in any case where the system is laboring under a state of weakness or debility.

JOHN F. JACKSON, M. D., a justly celebrated physician of Boston, writes: "The value of Buchu in Kidney and Urinary complaints is already established, and needs no additional testimony; but what I wish particularly to state is the fact that the combination with Iron adds very much to its healing properties. The same is also true of Sarsaparilla & Iron."

The celebrated Dr. HAYWARD, Superintendent of the Hospital for the Insane, writes: "I know of no remedy so valuable for our youthful unfortunates as RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. I am convinced that, if taken seasonably, this would save them from coming under my care. In my experience, it operates by fortifying the system and restoring the organs to a healthy condition. At the same time, by the production of a rich and healthy blood, the mental powers are invigorated, and bad habits are easily abandoned, and finally given up. It is very evident that the combination with the Iron very much assists the healing virtues of this medicine."

YOUNG MEN read page 31.
KIDNEY and Urinary Complaints and affections of the bladder are cured by RUSH'S Buchu & Iron when other remedies fail.

Mr. STEPHEN W. EDMONSON, of Camden, N. J., writes: "For more than fifteen years my life has been almost a burden with disease of the bladder and kidneys, accompanied with Gravel. I had, at different times, all the miserable feelings that one could well have with such a complaint, water sometimes bloody and sometimes cloudy, and again scanty and high-colored, with sharp tenderness and drawing pain, and often bearing aching soreness in the small of the back, loins, etc.

During all this time I used various medicinal preparations, and was treated by the most eminent physicians, obtaining but little relief. I also used various kinds of advertised remedies, finding some injurious, and more of them worthless; in fact I despaired of getting any better, until learning of the virtues of Buchu in such cases, and of the additional value which it derives from a scientific combination with Iron, and feeling confident it could do no harm, bought and used a bottle of RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. I began using it about a month since, at which time I was confined to the house. From the first dose I was surprised and gratified by its beneficent effect, and after using it two weeks was able to walk. From that time to this I have continued the medicine, with some intervals, continually gaining in health, and now call myself as well as ever I was in my life."

GRAVEL. The next letter, from Troy, N. Y., shows a cure of a case long standing:

"Dr. A. H. FLANDERS—Dear Sir, I began taking RUSH'S Buchu & Iron about four weeks since for disease of the Kidneys and Bladder, with Gravel. I have had very hard spells, and my water out of order for a long time, but never till the present time have I experienced such relief and help as from your Buchu & Iron."

In the preparation of RUSH'S Bitters, the greatest care is taken to secure absolute purity of materials, so that nothing enters into their composition at the most delicate and refined people could not willingly use. See page 2. To find anything in this Almanac, see Index, page 34.

Under the effects of it, taken in doses of a table-spoonful, the flow from the bladder became much more abundant and apparently healthy, and with this flow passed away a rough, oblong gravel the size of a large pea. I now feel perfectly well, and quite free from the pain I have suffered with so severely. I am confident my cure has resulted entirely from the beneficent effect of your medicine.

"Yours thankfully, WM. J. CRAWFORD."

Persons far advanced in years are cured by RUSH'S Buchu & Iron, although a longer time is required for a cure than in case of young persons. Read the following letter:

"PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 18, 1876.

"Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: An old man of seventy-six, and infirm at that, does not generally expect, after three years of illness, any permanent improvement in health. Men of my age cannot expect to be as surely or rapidly benefited as young men would be; nevertheless, I have found such permanent relief and unspeakable comfort and benefit from your Buchu & Iron that I esteem it a duty to record and acknowledge the fact publicly. My troubles were those of the Kidneys and Bladder, of an aggravated form and nature, which subjected me to excessive suffering, until good fortune threw in my way a bottle of this medicine, which I began to take with small faith and not much help at first. Slight relief, however, soon set in, which encouraged me to persevere in its use, and with every bottle I experienced a slow and sure gain, until now, after six months, I enjoy as much of the blessings of health as any man of my age that I know of. Dr. RUSH was known to my father in the days of WASHINGTON. I shall always hold you all in grateful remembrance.

JAMES B. CARROLL."

Mr. DAVID WEBBER, of Ashland, Pa., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer from Kidney complaints, and am taking RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. I am glad to say that I have found great relief from using it, more so than I had ever expected."

JOHN P. OLIPHANT, Esq., of Newark, N. J., writes:

"I have been very ill with Kidney Complaint, at times suffering severely, and often passing blood. Chance brought to my notice RUSH'S Buchu & Iron, and I determined to try it. In the course of three weeks I was entirely well, much to my astonishment. Occasionally, when my system needed it, I used also RUSH'S Pills; but to the Buchu & Iron I attribute my cure."

Mrs. WM. WHITESIDE, 69 Bedford St., Boston, writes, Oct. 30, 1870: "I have been using your medicines for Kidney Complaints, and have derived great benefit from them. I have taken four bottles of RUSH'S Buchu & Iron, and between them and four bottles of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, and of RUSH'S Pills as needed, and now can call myself quite cured."

RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron can be used to great advantage in all those cases where there is a scrofulous or humory state of body, as before.

GRAVEL, which is intimately connected with and caused by disordered Kidneys, and poverty and impurity of the blood, is cured by RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. The mode of operating is this: The Iron renews and restores the blood, while the Buchu, with its healing powers greatly increased by this combination, acts directly upon the Kidneys, and also upon the Bladder, if disordered at the same time, as it usually is to a greater or less extent. The testimony to this effect is conclusive, that the concentrated virtues of the leaves of the Buchu plant are immensely increased by combination with Iron in a state of delicate and fine particles, just such as are found in the blood of the most healthy.

The next letter shows a notable cure of Gravel by RUSH'S Buchu & Iron: "PAWTUCKET, R. I., Jan. 10, 1867. Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: I introduced your medicines in this place several years since, and take much pleasure in stating that they give general satisfaction, and none of them more so than your Buchu & Iron. A laboring man, named A. F. GOODALL, a few miles out in the country, had been nearly disabled some four years by Gravel. About a month since he bought of me a bottle of your Buchu & Iron, and before he had finished taking it he voided a piece of gravel which weighs ten and a half grains, which I herewith inclose. Your medicines are gaining in favor every day. "Yours truly, JOHN B. CUSHMAN."

The above-named piece of gravel, or urinary concretion, may be seen by the curious at the office of RUSH'S Medicines. It is about three-eighths of an inch long and one-eighth wide, and looks like a piece of candy.

OPHTHALMOPSY & Dropsical Swell- aban-e cured by RUSH'S Medicines. is very, is a collection of watery with the skin, or in any of the healing v.

cavities of the body. Under the we know it by a swelled, bloated, waxy appearance, and by the finger making a pit when pressed firmly on the skin, which then disappears slowly. Dropsy may be cured by thorough purging and by RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. Take four of RUSH'S Pills every night for three doses, or enough for a day to move the bowels three or four times. At the same time take RUSH'S Buchu & Iron after each meal and at night, and continue to keep the bowels well open by doses of Pills. All curable cases can be cured in this way. If the stomach is feeble, cold and torpid, a dose of RUSH'S Bitter every morning will assist the cure.

Mr. W. B. BUNKER, of Adrian, Michigan, writes, January 18, 1869:—"Last fall my wife was afflicted with inflammation and female difficulties terminating in abdominal swelling and dropsy. The best medical skill of our vicinity was called in, and, after using the most powerful remedies known to the faculty, her case was abandoned as hopeless. I then decided to have her try your Buchu & Iron and Pills as a last resort. An improvement soon set in from the first bottle and box of Pills, and after using these medicines about three months she was little by little restored to her usual health, to the surprise of the doctors, who had done their best for her without avail."

Mr. J. HAWTHORN, 716 So. Queen St. Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 2, 1878, writes "Language fails me to do justice to the virtues of RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. It is the only thing that has kept me alive."

YOUNG MEN who are nervous and debilitated from hidden causes should carefully consider the proper answers to the following points: If you have been afflicted with involuntary discharges, how does it affect your general health? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation and make you feel weak, debilitated and fatigued? Do your stomach, kidneys, and urinary organs often become disordered? Is your urine thick, milky, or flocky, or ropy, with a sediment on settling? Do you have constipation or other symptoms of dyspepsia, rush of blood to the head or face, and spells of short breath or faintness? Are you fond of solitude? also dispirited, melancholy, dull, listless, tired of company, almost tired of life? Has your memory begun to be impaired, and is your mind constantly dwelling upon the state of your health?

If you are afflicted as above, you may have sleep disturbed and restless, also starting and jumping at trifles; you find that your eye is losing its brilliancy, and your complexion its clearness and bloom. You find that your spirits are dull and moping; that your usual self-confidence, business energy, and love of society are fast departing; that want of sleep, weak back, weak knees, loss of appetite, color, and flesh threaten early decay.

Young man, the above symptoms arise, not from the liver, spleen, or stomach, but from badly-cured diseases, abuse of nature's laws, or youthful errors and excesses which need not be described. Such symptoms and courses, unless cured in time, lead to great weakness of the generative organs; so much so as to impair the mind and induce softening of the brain, idiocy, lunacy, palsy, spinal disease, and complaints which resemble almost every chronic ailment that flesh is heir to. All this will be better understood when we reflect that the generative organs, when in perfect health, mainly make the healthy man. Such are the bold, energetic, persevering, successful business men whom we so much admire. They do not complain of palpitations, melancholy, and nervousness, nor become sad, discouraged, or broken down in spirits; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look everybody right in the eye; no hang-dog looks or meanness about them.

Let the reader apply the above to his own case. Do not doctor for dyspepsia and liver complaint when self-abuse and excesses are what is the matter. You need RUSH'S Buchu & Iron to cure you; take it seasonably and perseveringly. If you are at all humory, every third or fourth bottle, use one of RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. If you are troubled with costiveness, take one of RUSH'S Pills, or half of one, every night or every other night, as needed. If you have coldness and torpor of stomach and hands and feet, or are used to spirits and stimulants, which you must give up, then RUSH'S Bitters, a dose every morning before breakfast, will materially assist the cure. RUSH'S Buchu & Iron, however, is the sheet-anchor for you, young man; the other articles only assist. Persevere with the above course of treatment and make sure of a cure. Health is a matter of the first importance to all, and is easily regained by the young when they understand the nature of their complaints; avoid the causes, and go on perseveringly with the proper means of cure.

Dr. HAYWARD, Superintendent of the Asylum for the Insane, writes: "For the first four years it has fallen to my lot to witness, examine, and mark the progress of from ten to twenty-five cases, daily, who have been the victims of youthful errors; and I aver that no cause whatever, which operates on the human system, prostrates all its energies—mental, moral, and physical—to an equal extent. I have seen more cases of idiocy from this cause alone than from all other causes. If insanity and idiocy do not result, other diseases, irremediable and hopeless, follow in its train, or such a degree of imbecility marks its ravages upon body and mind, as to destroy the happiness of life, and make existence itself wretched."

"After such persons come to this Asylum they are not easily curable by medicine; yet I have known of several cures apparently resulting from the administration of RUSH'S Buchu & Iron, and all cases seem to be benefited by it." Again he writes: "I know of no remedy so valuable for youthful unfortunates as RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. I am convinced, if taken seasonably, this would prevent from coming under my care."

Why are RUSH'S PILLS like men on a railroad when they see the train coming? Because they clear the track.

Sedentary persons of overwork, such as clergymen, lawyers, merchants; with bad appetite, palpitations, ratty, constipation, aban's, etc., are de- is verjv cured by with thtTERS. healing v.

A late celebrated surgeon writes on this subject: "A habit so baneful to many of our youth that believe it to be more destructive in its effects than great proportion of all the diseases to which, in ear- life, they are liable. Were it to prove hurtful those only whose self-indulgence gives rise to there would be less cause to regret its effects. B sides rendering the parent himself miserable, evidently entails the severe distress upon his p- terity by generating languor, debility, and disea- instead of that strength of constitution witho- which there can be no enjoyment."

In many cases men that are no longer youthful still suffering from errors and excesses which hav- long since been given up. All such persons, no lo- than younger men, will find in RUSH'S Buchu Iron, mainly, and the course of treatment point- out above, never-failing aid, and, with perseveranc- an entire cure.

The next letter, dated Columbus, O., March 28, 1877, is like many others received. The reader w- see that no names can properly be given:

"Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: I have been one of the unfortunates spoken of in your Almanac, till that I have taken RUSH'S Buchu & Iron about weeks, and find my system entirely restored. It helped me right along from the first dose."

"SPRINGFIELD, April 9, 1878: "Dear Sir: I pen these few lines to let you know that I am rapidly improving in health under the influence of your RUSH'S Buchu & Iron. I had thought three months ago that I should now be on this side of the grave. After I tried the best physicians, and they failed, I gave up all hopes of ever recovering; and when I sent to you for the BUCHU IRON I thought it was money thrown away, as before; but I have changed my mind, and now call you as one of the benefactors of mankind. My symptoms have all left me; the pain in the back of loins, and the dimness of sight, have gone; discharges ceased; and my appetite is increasing. My memory also has improved, my mind recovered from its perplexed and anxious state, and altogether I feel a new creature. Yours thankfully, S."

The same person writes again, Aug. 1st, 1878: "Dear Sir and Friend: For a friend you are; I write to inform you of my perfect cure. Since I wrote you in April I have continued taking RUSH'S Buchu & Iron for two months about twice a day, and since then once a day: and now feel, with gratitude and delight, that I was never in better health in my life."

GONORRHOEA, GLEET, and Gleetv discharge of the most obstinate kind, in male or female, are cured by RUSH'S Buchu & Iron, used at the same time with RUSH'S Restorer, in as short a time as any good and permanent cure can possibly be made.

fully in one or two weeks. RUSH'S Restorer cures all common cases in a few days. It is very easy to use, producing no irritation, and giving immediate relief from that already existing. No person who has ever tried it, under the usual harsh and frequently useless treatment, would willingly go without it. RUSH'S Buchu & Iron is especially needed in cases of general weakness, or neglected and long-standing diseases, where the blood and entire system are affected. Some of the numerous friends of RUSH'S Medicines are sinners; but they shall not be disappointed in a cure as above stated. It is not always a man's fault, or anybody's, in fact, that he is thus afflicted, since Leucorrhœa frequently produces the above disorders. RUSH'S Restorer is easy to obtain. See foot page 31. Full directions go with it.

A gentleman writes from St. Louis, Mo., April 3d, 1879: "A short time since I sent to you for a box of RUSH'S Restorer, which has proved an easy and quick cure for the horrid irritation I was suffering with."

RHEUMATISM.—This disease is generally chronic, and affects the joints, back, sinews and muscles. The symptoms are stiffness and tenderness, with swelling, pain, and numbness; caused by exposure to cold, dampness and the like. TO CURE: First clear the bowels with RUSH'S Pills, then give RUSH'S Buchu & Iron, a large teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime; also continue to keep the bowels well open by three or four of RUSH'S Pills every third or fourth night. For severe attacks, give a teaspoonful of Buchu & Iron every two hours, and good sweat daily with blankets, hot packs, and warm drinks.

The next letter, from Worcester, Mass., shows the nature of cures by RUSH'S Buchu & Iron:

Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism. My limbs were mostly affected, joints swollen and painful, with much pain in other parts. Twice I have had rheumatic fever, attacking the heart, and was at death's door several weeks. I feel another attack coming on, and thinking I should after each meal take both disease and drugs a teaspoonful of RUSH'S Buchu & Iron and Pills, as directed, and found immediate relief. In five days I went out, and have improved steadily ever since. Now I am freer from disease than I have been for years. Daily I take one dose of Buchu & Iron, which seems to prevent a return. Gratefully, your friend,

"JAMES W. THOMPSON."

Mr. ORRIN RAMSDELL writes, from Sunbury Mills, Pa.: "I am much exposed to cold and wet, and have been often sick with pain and soreness in my back, shoulders, knees, and hips. The tenderness to the touch was so great as to quite lay me up; every few months I was sick abed with a most severe spell, with fever, which the doctors call Acute Rheumatism. I saw no end to these sufferings till I took RUSH'S Buchu & Iron and Pills. The Pills seemed to relieve my liver, stomach, and bowels of a great deal of foulness and disease, and give the Buchu & Iron a fair chance to act, which it did, by apparently rooting out the disease from my blood and joints, leaving me cured."

GOUT, the rich man's rheumatism, is usually caused by high living, want of exercise, and use of fermented liquors. It affects most the hands and feet. Both disorders depend upon the blood being impure and out of order. Cure it exactly as directed before for Rheumatism.

HYSTERICIS, with fits of crying, laughing, and screaming, and feeling as of a ball rolling, are promptly relieved by RUSH'S Bitters. Give four tablespoonfuls once or twice an hour; then give three or four of RUSH'S Pills if there is costiveness. If there is a humory or weak state of body, then RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron is the proper cure.

PROFUSE FLOW.—When too much of the vital fluid is lost in this way, or where it returns too soon, or lasts too long, the system becomes rapidly weakened. The remedy is RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron. RUSH'S Bitters at the time for quick relief.

For prices, etc., see page 34.

11th Mo. Not and effectual cure for female complaints of ordinary kinds, such as Leucorrhœa or Whites, Prolapsus or Fall of the Womb, and other common weakness. It gives a new and healthful tone to the female organs, removes relaxed debility and unhealthy secretions, and restores a healthful vigor and elasticity. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron can always be taken at the same time with advantage, where there is a humory condition or thinness of flesh, paleness or sallowness of face, or general bodily weakness. The blood in such cases needs restoring and renewing, which RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron will do, while RUSH'S Restorer rapidly cures the local disorders.

RUSH'S Buchu & Iron is preferred if there be any kidney, urinary, or other disease for which that medicine is advised in the last few pages.

Ladies who use wines, ale, beer, or liquors, and see their health failing, will find in RUSH'S Bitters a substitute, perfectly pure, and very agreeable as a stimulant and tonic, and one that can be depended upon to build up the debilitated system.

RUSH'S BITTERS, used at the same time with RUSH'S Restorer, cure Female Complaints, when the stomach seems cold, torpid, and feeble; or where there is an all-gone feeling and want of appetite at breakfast; or, where there is an accumulation of mucus or phlegm in the throat in the morning, which is difficult to raise. In all such cases take a dose of RUSH'S Bitters on rising; and if the Sarsaparilla & Iron or Buchu & Iron are not needed for disorders just mentioned, then use the Bitters three times a day.

Read this from Dr. HENRY ADAMS, well-known of Cincinnati, O.:

"Dr. A. H. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: I have found RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron an alterative and tonic of great power and usefulness. Used with RUSH'S Restorer for Female Complaints, it should be a great favorite with American ladies, as no remedies that I have ever employed have been attended with better success. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron is the best remedy for Scrofula; and in all cases of female weakness, attended with Leucorrhœa or whites, and Prolapsus or Falling of the Womb, of scrofulous origin, they nearly require that remedy. In simple cases I have found RUSH'S Restorer alone sufficient. These medicines are pleasant, efficacious, and cheap; and mothers of our land, as well as the rising generation, owe you a debt of gratitude for making them accessible to all classes. Restore health to wives and daughters, and their children shall enjoy the same blessing.

WHITES.—Leucorrhœa.—This is the most common of all female complaints, and embraces every variety of flow but one. If continued it will cause permanent weakness of the female organs, with paleness, loss of appetite, general debility, lack of blood, prolapsus or falling of the womb, barrenness, polypus, or even cancer. The best remedy is RUSH'S Restorer. It is used by the precise directions, and directly reaches the seat of the disorder. In all such cases, especially if scrofula be present in the system, as it generally is, RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron will prove a sovereign remedy, and should be used at the same time.

Dr. A. G. WRIGHT, a popular physician, of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

Dr. FLANDERS—Dear Sir: RUSH'S Restorer has proved of the greatest service in ordinary Female Complaints, and especially for Leucorrhœa. It is an effectual cure for all simple and uncomplicated cases; but where there is Scrofula or general debility, I am also obliged to use some preparation of iron. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron is just the thing for such cases.

Mrs. MARY CHASE, Dracut, Mass., writes: "Dear Sir: I feel to thank you for the good RUSH'S Restorer has done for me, used for Leucorrhœa as you recommended. I have suffered with it for more than ten years, and have been at different times almost prevented from doing my work by the weakness and soreness it caused. I have now used boxes, and am quite cured. I am truly grateful to you for your aid in preparing such a medicine, and am willing you should publish it to benefit others."

r. GEO. PEACOCK, St. John's, Mich., writes: "Please send two boxes RUSH's Restorer. My wife is nearly cured of leucorrhœa by it, but we wish to make the cure complete."

PROLAPSUS, or Falling of the womb, is very often the result of too early getting up after confinement, continued leucorrhœa, and all weakening and relaxing causes. It may be known by a feeling of bearing-down pain, made worse by standing or walking, and by a sensation of dragging at the loins. Whites frequently go with it, and may be cured at the same time. The remedy is RUSH's Restorer, which is to be used either alone or with RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron, as just advised for Whites.

s. J. R. FORD, Adams street, Lowell, Mass., writes: "I have been troubled for years with Prolapsus, and most of the time very bad. I had relief at once from the RUSH's Restorer you gave me. I have used two boxes, and am cured. I send the key for another box, by mail, for a friend of mine."

3. HELEN F. GRAFTON, a nurse among the "upper ten" of New York, writes: "Nearly all the ladies that I have care of use RUSH's Restorer for Female Complaints, or as a preventive, or both. It is most popular among the Fifth Avenue ladies and the families, though goodness knows the poorer classes need it most. They say they would not be without it cost ten times as much."

CHLOROSIS.—GREEN-SICKNESS.—When the regular flow does not appear in young females we find signs of disease resembling consumption of the blood, with general debility, unnatural complexion and appetite, eating chalk, and slate-pencil; also dyspepsia, constipation, cold hands and feet, flatulency; sometimes spit-ting of blood and hurried respiration. The remedy for this condition, and for a failing one, is RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron. Take it after each meal and at bedtime; dose, two teaspoonfuls. If there is constipation, move the bowels well with RUSH's Pills, and after that, one pill every second night, if needed.

BARRENNESS.—This is caused by scrofulous humors, want of amableness, consumption of the blood, defective nutrition, habitual costiveness, and dyspeptic troubles. We now have a very sure remedy in RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron. Take two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at night. This should be continued patiently, even for six months or a year, until the desired result is obtained. If there are whites, or falling of the womb, conception cannot be expected until they are cured. No barren lady, or one who lacks enjoyment, will ever use RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron with regret. If the stomach remains cold and languid, with an all-gone feeling in the morning, RUSH's Bitters will prove a very pleasant remedy. There is no medicine more pleasant, grateful, and effectual for delicate females than these Bitters.

PAINFUL FLOW.—MENSTRUAL COLIC.—This is quickly cured by a few doses of RUSH's Bitters. Use at the same time a warm hip-bath, or go to bed, with hot bricks at the feet. Two of RUSH's Pills should then be taken to move the bowels gently. No lady who has once found the value of RUSH's Medicines in such cases will willingly be without them. If a permanent cure does not result as above, Humors or Scrofula are in the blood, which are curable by RUSH's Sarsaparilla & Iron.

RUSH'S RESTORER, with directions for its easy use, is in paper boxes, containing enough to last several weeks. Sold by most druggists; price $1; sent by mail, in sealed letter package, on receipt of $1.10; address at page 3. Observe the proprietor's name on each box.

SUPPRESSION OF MENSES.—See p. 34. Prices same page, and directions for obtaining the goods. For the rest of Female Complaints see p. 29.

RUSH'S Lung Balm

Is entirely vegetable and healing in its nature, and surpasses all other medicines in curing Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and all disorders of the throat and lungs, without tightening or binding them up, as all other lung medicines do which contain morphine and mineral drugs.

CONSUMPTION is a form of Scrofula, and depends upon the presence of tubercles in the lungs. RUSH'S Lung Balm is the only known medicine that can remove tubercles; it is therefore of the first importance; but Consumption is also a highly Scrofulous disease, and RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron is the great cure for Scrofula. Consumption cannot be cured without removing it from the blood.

In the great majority of cases of cough, raising, and night-sweats, with other signs of Consumption, the trouble, beginning in the blood, extends equally to the liver, stomach, and lungs.

To cure Consumption, therefore, we must purify the blood, cleanse and invigorate the stomach, and stimulate the liver to healthy action. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron and RUSH'S Pills do all of this; while RUSH'S Lung Balm cures the cough radically, softens, dissolves, and removes the tubercles from the lungs, and ripens and heals the ulcers.

EXPERIENCE proves that a great many cases have been cured in this manner. Not all cases are curable, but nearly all can be cured in the first and second stages, even when cavities have already formed.

This process of cure is often accompanied by a copious raising of the tuberculous and diseased matter, and the cough, night-sweats, and fever turns disappear. The consumptive realizes a constant improvement; the spirits become more buoyant, the appetite improves, the patient increases in flesh and strength, and the soft bloom of returning health takes the place of the hectic flush.

MR. J. ELEBASH, of Macedon, Conn., N. Y., writes: "I think your medicine (RUSH'S Lung Balm, Sarsaparilla & Iron, and Pills) are just what I need, and, in fact, all other debilitated consumptives will do well to avail themselves of your really valuable medicines, as this is the second time I have saved my life by their use."

MR. ENOCH B. FARLEY, Bridgewater, Me., writes: "DEAR DOCTOR: My brother's wife was thought by all her friends to be past cure with Consumption. She used one bottle each of RUSH'S Lung Balm and Sarsaparilla & Iron, which nearly cured her. She has taken two bottles since, and she is now not a rugged looking woman in town. This case caused a great demand here for RUSH'S Medicines."

MRS. MCDANIEL, of Cazenovia, N. Y., states: "That she has been perfectly cured of a severe and long-protracted cough, with night-sweats and all the usual symptoms of consumption, by the use of one bottle each of RUSH'S Lung Balm and Sarsaparilla & Iron, and one Box of RUSH'S Pills, and that she is now able to perform a great deal of hard labor."

BLEEDING at the Lungs, which is a striking symptom of Consumption, is cured by RUSH'S Lung Balm with wonderful celerity. The testimony of every person who has ever used it for this complaint is conclusive that it works like a charm.

MRS. HANNAH E. NASH, of Newburyport, Mass., writes: Dr. FARRIS—Dear Sir: I have found your Lung Balm the only and immediate cure for my lung troubles. You will remember that I had bleeding from my lungs last winter, in Lubec, Me., and found immediate relief; also a cure for my cough that I had at the time." The above was a case of consumption in the first or second stage.

Miss HARRIET WEBSTER, of Second avenue, New York, writes: "I have been repeatedly attacked with Bleeding at the lungs and Spitting of Blood. I have naturally weak lungs, and any exposure, like sitting in light of air when heated, brings enough, with raising of blood. A dose of RUSH'S Lung Balm is enough to cure this entirely for the time. I am much less subject to these attacks than I used to be before I used this medicine."

RES of Consumption by RUSH'S medicines are stated more at length in RUSH'S larger Almanacs, 1872 to 1874. Copies will be sent by mail, if desired. Address at page 3.

Tracheitis, Minister's sore throat, easily cured in the same way.

Coughs and Colds are speedily cured by RUSH'S Lung Balm. A few doses (often one dose) are enough for a single case. Many a cough has run into Consumption for want of timely medicine. AMOS W. YOUNG, Esq., of Springfield, Mass., writes: "I took a very bad cold, which settled on my lungs, and left me with a hard cough. My lungs and throat felt as if blocked up. I used less than one-half bottle of RUSH'S Lung Balm, which entirely cured me."

Colds, Simple, see page 6.

Croup, Whooping-Cough, Measles, Quinsy, or Inflamed Tonsils, are all cured by RUSH'S Lung Balm. GEORGE CALIF, Esq., of Melrose, Mass., writes: "I find your RUSH'S Lung Balm well recommended by my neighbors for Coughs, Colds, and Consumption. For myself, I don't want to be without it on hand. It has cured my children of Quinsy, Sore-throat, Croup, Measles, and Whooping-Cough, besides bad colds and coughs at other times; and I don't know as I could keep house without it. I came home one day last week with a severe cold on my lungs, took some of the Lung Balm three times, and the next day was entirely well. It is the best medicine for the lungs and throat that was ever put up."

JONAH COLLINS, Cottage street, Melrose, Mass., states: That he is seventy years of age, and has been troubled for about two years with a cough, much raising of yellow greenish matter, was much reduced in health, and feared consumption, and has been cured by less than one bottle of RUSH'S Lung Balm.

Hoarseness cured. Letter from a well-known actress.

DEAR SIR: I cannot thank you sufficiently for RUSH'S Lung Balm. It has done me a great deal of good, and enabled me to resume my duties on the stage, from which I was disabled by hoarseness. Yours very sincerely,

PAULINE MARKHAM.

Influenza is cured the same.

Mr. CHARLES W. BRACKETT, of Smithfield, R. I., writes: "I have used RUSH'S Lung Balm for attacks of colds and influenza, which settled on my lungs, attended with cough, and always have found a rapid cure."

Diphtheria, Bronchitis, etc.

Dr. J. F. ANSON, a celebrated physician in Montreal, writes: "I have found RUSH'S Lung Balm the best remedy I know of for the hard coughs of our climate. It seems to give relief by a specific effect, the cure being very prompt and permanent. I break up attacks of Influenza in a few hours by its use; and for Chronic Bronchitis, and the first or second stage of Consumption, there is no remedy in which I have so much confidence. I prefer attempting to break up Diphtheria with this medicine to the use of any other means. Given seasonably, or as soon as throat symptoms occur, it has never failed in my hands."

Asthma, or Phthisic, moist or dry.

Rev. Dr. A. L. IDE, a prominent Baptist clergyman, writes: "I have been an occasional sufferer with Asthma for many years, but latterly more than ever. For several months I have been obliged to sleep in a chair, or attempt to sleep, and could not lie down for the violence of the paroxysms, threatening immediate suffocation. I am now so nearly well that I call myself cured by less than one bottle of RUSH'S Lung Balm. I feel very thankful for it, and am willing you should make this known to benefit others."

Mrs. FANNY A. EDSON, of Fitchburg, Mass., who long had moist or humid Asthma, writes that she has been cured by RUSH'S Lung Balm.

RUSH'S FAMILY PHYSICIAN is a book of 230 pages, containing a short account of common diseases and accidents, with their remedies. The following subjects are specially treated: Consumption, Scrofula, Diphtheria, Croup, Asthma, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all medical matters interesting to married ladies and those entering marriage, such as the care of infants and Diseases of Children, also Diseases of the skin, and one hundred valuable receipts. Sent, post-paid, with receipt of 25 cents. Address at page 3.

SUPPRESSION OF MENSES.—RUSH'S REMEDY is the GREAT FEMALE REGULATOR, and the most safe and effectual medicine. It is especially adapted to obstinate cases, where other medicines have failed; at the same time, with gentle action, being the most powerful remedy known. It does no harm. No one need inquire if it is safe in all cases. In RUSH'S Almanacs for previous years are abundant testimonials of its entire safety and success. It is sold by most druggists, price 25 cents a bottle. It may always be procured by remitting 25 cents (address at page 3), when it will be sent, securely packed, by express; or by mail for $2.25. Full directions with each bottle. Ask or write for RUSH'S Remedy. No CONSULTATIONS. Suppressions lead to weakness and debility, not from taking cold, but to Consumption, and need the same medicine for cure. See page 32. In case of young girls, where the flow has never appeared as it should, it is called Chlorosis. See page 31.

Mrs. REBECCA MOWRY, a benevolent and very successful nurse at Providence, R. I., writes:

"Please find inclosed the money for a half-dozen bottles of RUSH'S Remedy. A number of friends that I have taken care of wish to keep it on hand, and desire me to get it for them. It is the most popular medicine I know of; indeed, too many are taking it for suppressions who ought not to be cured; but if they will use such remedies, I am sure they cannot use anything safer or better."

The editor of The Journal of Medical Reform writes: "We think RUSH'S Remedy safe and reliable for a prompt and satisfactory cure of female irregularities, and much preferable to the worthless and injurious pills and nostrums so extensively pulled off."

SOLOMON RUSSELL, M.D., Professor in the College of Pharmacy, writes: "I have made a chemical analysis of RUSH'S Remedy, and find that it does not contain any poisonous or injurious drug. I will also send you a bottle. I hear of many ladies who bear united testimony to its pleasant and successful operation."

Prices. RUSH'S Sarsaparilla & Iron, BUCHU & BITTERS, and LUNG BALM;—$1 each a bottle, or 25 cts. You can remit to New York (see page 3) or the same to be sent by Express; 6 for the price of 5. Ask the nearest druggist when you can; name on cover.

PLE the judicious justly con-vices and liquors sold as beverbecause they are so vilely ad-ted that they cannot be used as ines, they must still see that a ess abuse of all stimulants is er consistent with experience ommon sense; and that it is only without knowledge that would mn the use, as a medicine, of a fically prepared cordial because nd whiskey, and the vile stimu-of the dram shop, carry ruin in rack.

DICAL MEN, as well as the
, admit the merit of RUSH'S s, and recommend it to their ts in cases where they formerly vines, whiskey, or brandy. They at they can find no other article n be depended upon as so uni-pure and perfect in quality edicinal effect. All physicians that perfect purity is essential stimulant, in order to obtain st medical result. The reader ited to apply every known test on or adulteration to RUSH'S . Their spirituous element is tely pure.

OLON RUSSELL, the well-known sor of Chemistry in the College armacy, writes:
e made a careful analysis of Bitters. The contents are en-vegetable, of a tonic and cordial , and such as could do no harm human system. The spirituous ent is quite pure.

OLON RUSSELL.

AGED say that RUSH'S Biter to those advanced in years and cordial far better for solac-ir discomforts and reviving the powers of life, than any of the y stimulants; that RUSH'S Bit-the and strengthen, promote leep, give vigor to digestion, interact wonderfully all those ing influences which the decay ity exercises over the mind.

USTIN EDMONDS, a venerable an of New York City, writes:
ing much of my life, I have bliged to use stimulants for ic disorders, and for other and found that my system was gradually breaking down under their use. I have now taken about five bottles of RUSH'S BITTERS, and have not only been able to abandon the opiates, ale, porter, and spirits, which had almost become a second nature with me, but find myself relieved of my neuralgic and nervous affections, combined with dyspeptic troubles of long standing."

Many persons are troubled with Constitutional Weakness and Debility, Want of Sleep, extreme Sensitiveness and Irritability, Languor, and various nameless ailments, indicated by an all-gone feeling, or sinking at the pit of the stomach, or divers symptoms which they hardly know how to describe.
Such will find in RUSH'S BITTERS just what they need—a health-restoring and life-renewing cordial and tonic.

NAMELESS DISORDERS.

Very many persons feel that they are ill, but know not the cause. They do not like to say they are sick, because they can give no name to their ailment; yet they know that they are not well.

The real need for these unfortunates is vital strength, vigor of body, and cheerfulness of mind. It is a tonic medicine by means of which they can with certainty recuperate the system and regain perfect health. That tonic is RUSH'S Bitters. The languid, torpid, and fading vitality requires a life-reviving tonic to restore cheerfulness to the mind, fortitude to the body, sleep to the brain, and appetite to the stomach.

RUSH'S Bitters, pure in material and beneficent in medical power, containing only the most genial vegetable virtues, and combining the three grand elements of a tonic, stimulant, and alterative, are suitable for the disorders of both sexes, and applicable to the disabilities of all ages, classes and conditions of mankind.

Wherever RUSH'S MEDICINES have been introduced, they have gained rapidly in favor; and RUSH'S BIT-TERS, not less than the rest, became at once the standard. Throughout the length and breadth of our land they are household words for a cordial and tonic.
